To whom it may concern:

The Association of Clinical Documentation Improvement Specialists (ACDIS) considers the Central Indiana ACDIS Chapter a chapter in good standing. The Central Indiana ACDIS Chapter became an official ACDIS chapter in 2010. Although the nature of the collaboration between ACDIS and the Central Indiana ACDIS Chapter is not considered a business partnership, ACDIS endorses the formation of state and local organizations, encourages the collaboration of such groups with the national body, and supports the alliance of the local and national groups for mutually favorable principles.

Since its inception the Central Indiana ACDIS Chapter has grown to 83 members representing more than 30 healthcare organizations across the state. It created by-laws, elected leadership, holds regular quarterly meetings, and plans to hold its first collaborative meeting with the Northern Kentucky ACDIS Chapter in August of 2012.

As the Central Indiana ACDIS Chapter continues to grow, the national organization acknowledges its efforts and supports its mission to offer educational opportunities, promote best practices, and facilitate networking for CDI professionals.

Sincerely,

Melissa Varnavas
